LITTLE BREECHES.

A Pike county view of Special Providence

I don't go much on religion,
I never ain't had no show;
But I've got a middlin' tight grip, sir,
On the handful o' things I know.
I don't pan out on the prophets
And free-will, and that sort o' thing—
But I believe in God and the angels,
Ever sence one night last spring.

I came into town with some turnips,
And my little Gabe came along—
No four-year old in the country
Could beat him for pretty and strong.
Peart and chipper and sassy,
Always ready to swear and fight—
And I'd larnt him to chaw terbacker,
Jest to keep his milk teeth white.

The snow came down like a blanket
As I passed by Taggart's store,
I went in for a jug of molasses
And left the team at the door.
They scared at something and started—
I heard one little squall,
And hell-to-split over the prairie
Went team, little breeches and all.

Hell-to-split over the prairie!
I was almost froze with skeer;
But we rousted up some torches,
And sarched for 'em far and near.
At last we struck horses and wagon,
Snowed under a soft white mound,
Upsot, dead beat—but of little Gabe
No hide nor hair was found.

And here all hope soured on me,
Of my fellow-critters' aid—
I jest dropped down on my marrow bones,
Crotch deep in the snow and prayed.

* * * * * * *

By this, the torches was played out,
And me and Isrul Parr,
Went off for some wood to a sheep fold
That he said was somewhar thar.

We found it at last, and a little shed
Where they shut up the lambs at night,
We looked in, and seen them huddled thar,
So warm and sleepy and white.
And thar, set Little Breeches and chirped
As peart as ever you see,
"I want a chaw of terbacker,
And that's what's the matter of me."

How did he get thar? Angels.
He never could have walked in that storm,
They jest scooped down and toted him
To war it was safe and warm.
And I think that saving a little child,
And bringing him to his own,
Is a darned sight better business
Than loafing around The Throne. J. H.

CURIOUS DREAMS.

As evidence against the view that the action of the brain is continuous during sleep, we may adduce cases of apparently long dreams that have been completed, from beginning to end, in very few seconds, and which have been excited by external influences. The following [illegible] clearly prove how great is the waste of time in the dream during sleep compared with the actual lapse of time:

A person, who was suddenly aroused from sleep by a few drops of water sprinkled on his face, dreamed of the events of a whole life, in which happiness and sorrow were mingled, and which finally terminated with an attempt upon the borders of an extensive lake, into which his exasperated companion after a considerable struggle succeeded in plunging him.

Dr. Carpenter mentions the case of a clergyman falling asleep in his pulpit during the singing of a psalm before the sermon, and awakening with the conviction that he had slept for an hour or more, and that the congregation must have been waiting for him; but on referring to his psalm book, he was consoled by finding that his slumber had not lasted longer than the singing of a line.

Sir Benjamin Brodie, in his "Psychological Inquiries," 1854, mentions the following fact of the late Lord Holland: "On an occasion when he was much fatigued, while listening to a friend who was reading aloud, he fell asleep and had a dream, the particulars of which it would take him a quarter of an hour, or longer, to express in writing. After he awoke he found that he remembered the beginning of one sentence, while he actually heard the latter part of the sentence immediately following it; so that, probably, the whole time during which he had slept did not occupy more than a few seconds."

A lawyer found it necessary to obtain the exact age of a client of his, who was also his cousin. Their grandfather, who was rather an eccentric person, had died when they were boys. The lawyer often told his cousin that if the grandfather had been alive the desired information could have been readily obtained, and that he had a dim recollection of seeing a record kept by the old gentleman, and of there being some peculiarity about it which he could not recall. Some months after the search had been given up as hopeless, he dreamed that their grandfather came to him and said, "You have been trying to find out when J—— was born. Don't you recollect one afternoon, when we were out fishing, I read you some lines from an Elsevir 'Horace,' and showed you how I had made a faithful record out of the book by inserting a number of blank leaves at the end? Now, as you know, I devised my library to the Rev. ——. I was a great fool for giving him books which he will never read! Get the 'Horace,' and you will discover the exact hour at which J—— was born. The lawyer, deeply impressed with the dream, started by the first morning train to visit the clergyman, who lived in a neighboring city; found the 'Horace,' and at the end were the pages constituting the family record, exactly as had been described in the dream. By no effort of his memory could he call to his recollection the incidents of the fishing excursion.

The following case in which a dream—in other respects highly remarkable—occurred twice on the same night, came under the notice of the writer of this article in the year 1848. Our readers may recollect that, in the year just recorded, there was a terrible case of murder, Dr. Webster, professor of chemistry in Harvard College being convicted for the murder of his acquaintace—we can hardly say friend—Dr. Parkman. A lady—we call her X. Y.—well known in the literary world, and then residing in London, had, some years previously, paid a long visit to the United States, during which she became intimately acquainted with Dr. Webster and his family, who showed her much kindness and attention. After her return to England she continued to correspond with the family; and one day in the early autumn of 1848 a gentleman related to Dr. Parkman called upon her with an introduction from Professor Webster. On that night she went to bed at her usual hour, but soon experienced a horrible dream. She fancied that she was being urged by Dr. Webster to assist him in concealing a set of human bones in a wooden box; and she distinctly recollected that there was a thigh-bone which, after failing to break it in pieces, they vainly attempted to insert, but it was too long. While they were trying to hide the box—as she fancied, under her bed—she woke in a state of terror and cold perspiration. She instantly struck a light, and tried to dispel the recollection of her horrible vision by reading. After the lapse of two hours, during which she had determinedly fixed her attention on the book, she put out the lights, and soon fell asleep. The same dream occurred; after which she did not dare, although a woman of singular moral and physical courage, to attempt to sleep any more that night. Early on the the following morning she called upon the writer, and told him of her fearful experiences of the past night. Nothing more at the time was thought of these dreams; but shortly afterwad the news reached England that Dr. Parkman was missing; that the last time he was seen alive he was entering the college gates; and that the janitor was suspected of having murdered him.

On the writer mentioning this to X. Y., she at once exclaimed: "Oh, my dreams!" The next mail but one brought the news that the true murderer had been detected; and that, at the very time when X. Y.'s dream occurred, he must have been actually struggling to get the bones—the flesh having been previously burned—into a wooden box, such as she had seen; and that after attempting in vain to break the tough bones, he had hidden them elsewhere.—Chambers' Journal

THE HEALTH HABITS OF YOUNG MEN.

A very serious and interesting table might be made by a thoughtful physiologist and hygienist, showing each person where his strength goes; and I am not sure that a young man could do a better service for himself than to seek the counsel of some wise physiologist, tell him frankly all his habits, and have such a table prepared, not only to guard him against excess but to show him his weak places, and point out where he will be most likely to fail. Some of these tables, would no doubt, read very much as follows:

Spent in digesting a big dinner, which the body did not need, sufficient force to raise thirty tons of matter one foot high.

Spent in getting rid of several drinks of wine and brandy, force sufficient to raise twenty tons one foot high.

Spent in smoking six cigars, force sufficient to raise ten tons one foot high.

Spent in keeping awake all night at a spree, force sufficient to raise twenty tons one foot high.

Spent in breathing bad air, force sufficient to raise fifteen tons one foot high.

Spent in cheating a neighbor out of $30 in a business transaction, force sufficient to raise fifteen tons one foot high.

Spent in reading worthless books and newspapers force sufficient to raise five tons one foot high.

Spent in hesitation, doubt and uncertainty, force sufficient to raise five tons one foot high.

Total—120 tons one foot high.

Left for practical and useful labor only enough to raise fifty-five tons one foot high, or to do less than one third of a day's work.

Sometimes there would be a draft on the original capital of considerable force, so there would not be enough to keep the body warm, or the food well digested, or the muscles plump and full, or the hearing acute, or the eyes keen and bright, or the brain thoughtful and active.

Very often a single debauch would use up the entire available power of the whole system for a whole week or month.

There is no end to the multitudinous ways in which we not only spend our working capital but draw on the original stock that ought never to be touched, and the result is imperfect blues, rickety bodies, no ability to transmit to our children good health and long life, much physical suffering and premature decay, with all the ends of life unaccomplished. How sad is all this! How terrible to be born into this world and leave it without adding something to its wealth, its virtue, and its progress.—Herald of Health.

PEARLS.

A right mind and generous affection have more beauty and more charms than all other symmetries in the world besides; and a grain of honesty and native worth is of more value than all the adventitious ornaments, estates, or preferments—for the sake of which some of the better sort so often turn knaves.

Abstract goodness does not stir up opposition. So long as piety is only pictured as a vision, or made to appear as a sort of sacred episode in history, it troubles men very little. It is only when it claims costly homage and personal service that the fight springs up.

Can we doubt that the soul, freed from its clay, will be capable of seeing, hearing, feeling, thinking, remembering? As well may we question the faculties of God, for the human soul is a minature of deity, or the image of its creator.

The triumphal arch of morality is a rainbow beneath which no mortal has ever passed, and which none but One has ever had above his head; that is, he, who stands as a sun beneath the clouds.

You cannot degrade a true and good man by any wrong or injustice you do him. You may cheat him, pain him, injure his usefulness, but he is above your power of degrading.

There is a simple and beautiful propriety in all things which gives grace to the manners, beauty to the person, sweetness to the disposition, and loveliness to the whole being.

As easily expect oaks from a mushroom bed as great and durable products from small and hasty efforts.

The powers of man's virtue should not be measured by his special efforts but by his ordinary doings.

It is true wisdom to speak but little of the injuries you have received or the good deeds you have done.

In the treatment of nervous cases, rest is the best physician who is the most ingenious inspirer of hope.

No evil propensity of the human heart is so powerful that it may not be subdued by discipline.

A desire to resist oppression is implanted in the nature of man.

Against misfortune oppose courage; against fashion, reason.

Perfection is a point at which all should aim.

SPEED OF THE LATE EARTHQUAKE

The Cleveland Leader says of the late earthquake:

Its progressive movement westward in longitude, from Bangor to Cleveland, a distance in a direct line of 850 miles may have taken place in less than 60 seconds. Earthquake waves seldom move faster than thirty miles in that time.

The great and fatal shock at Lisbon in Portugal, Nov. 1st, 1775, by which 6000 persons were killed in six minutes, progressed from the center of greatest activity at the rate of 20 miles a minute only. It extended over territory 4000 miles across. In the province of Caraccas, South America, April 30, 1812, frightful subterranean noises were heard, at the same moment at places 700 miles apart without a concussion. In our case there were none of the usual rumbling underground noises. Its presence on the Atlantic coast and the shores of Lake Erie nearly at the same moment, indicates a deep seated cause or force acting outwardly from the interior of the earth. A wave like vibration of the surface could not progress at the rate of ten miles a second without shaking down buildings. The duration of its effects here slightly exceeded a minute. No concussion was observed, but only a gentle pendulum motion, arising wholly from the first impulse.

The results of the enormous motive power of Pittsburgh, Pa., are exhibited in a manufacturing industry of magnificent proportions. The iron mills embrace 524 boiling furnaces, 17 heating furnaces, 510 nail, tack, and spike machines, 69 steam hammers, and 195 steam engines. The production of the past year was $20,000,000. Pittsburgh furnishes 38 per cent of American iron, 68 per cent of our steel, and 46 per cent of our glass. The latter embraces 69 factories, producing annually 70,000,000 bottles, 600,000 boxes of window glass, and 12,000 tons of glassware, worth $7,000,000. The grand total of manufacturing interests show a capital of $106,000,000, and an annual product of $80,000,000.

A little boy in a Brooklyn Sunday school was asked to say which was the most beautiful verse in the Bible. After some hesitation he replied, 'If any man pulls down the American flag, shoot him on the spot.'

The new editor of a paper in West Virginia wants the name of that state changed. He doesn't like the dependency which the present name seems to him to signify. He proposes Appalachia.

A QUEER CASE.

A correspondent of the Alta California, writing from San Jose, September 20, said:

"A short time ago a family of wealth and respectability, who live near this city, went on a visit to their former home in an eastern state, and on their return brought back with them a niece who was in ill health. Shortly after they had arrived at their home in this county, the girl began to exhibit a very strange condition of mental agitation, which would last for a few minutes and then leave the girl in her proper mind. When questioned as to her strange conduct, she would disclaim any knowledge of her unusual manifestations, and expressed the greatest surprise at the inquiries of her relatives. These strange spells continued to grow more and more frequent and more violent, until finally the girl would make use of the most strong and extravagant speeches, talking in a profane and threatening manner, and professed to be the returned spirit of some bushwhacker who had been hanged by his own relatives in Missouri during the war. Her relatives then began to address their conversation to the spirit who claimed to have possession of the girl, and gained from it an acknowledgment like the following: 'I was what you call a bushwhacker, and was killed by this girl's father, and, as I still feel a spirit of revenge against him, I have taken control of her to further my designs; I have nothing against the girl, and intend to do her no harm.' Apparently to convince those present of his identity the evil spirit went on to tell many things which had happened between himself and the girl's relatives (all of which was true), and finally told them there was a letter on the way to them, giving information of the severe sickness of a little sister, of the girl whom he was using for his evil purpose. The letter alluded to arrived in a few days, confirming the truth of what had been foretold. The relatives of the girl with whom she was living thinking she might be insane, sent her to a private asylum at Alameda, a few days ago, and have learned that she is not disturbed any longer by the revengeful monsters. The spirit had told them that he would leave the girl when she should be removed from her relatives, but he would enter into some other member of the family. A day or two ago the people here received a letter from Missouri stating that the father of the girl was afflicted in a manner which exactly corresponds with the former disorder of the child. The truth of the above narrative may be relied upon, as it comes from the parties directly connected with the strange affair, and who are upright, honorable people."

INFRINGING UPON PERSONAL LIBERTY.

It is asked by some, why should there be legislation for ninety-nine temperance men, or those not yet drunkards, in the community, because the hundredth man gets drunk. Now it is all well, that there should be a constant jealous watchfulness over the rights of individuals and personal liberty, but has it never struck these objectors that rights and liberty may be invaded in a greater and more positive degree than the cutting off of a man's toddy and his opportunities for making himself a nuisance, if not a brute. Is it infringement of personal liberty for the sober portion of the community to seek to restrict or abolish the sale of drink; is it not a far greater infringement on that liberty for the drunken members of society to compel their temperate neighbors to keep up an army of police, and to build larger jails and workhouses than would ever be required but for the common sale of intoxicating liquor? It is all very well to advocate a man's liberty to drink, or get drunk, and if he could do either without infringing upon the rights of his temperate fellow citizens, there would be no need of legislation; but what becomes in present state of the law, of the liberty of those who do not require the grog shop themselves, and who are subjected to continual annoyance in person and pocket by the misconduct of its votaries? Liberty from the drink shop is tyranny for society; and while such establishments cannot point to one particle of good they do individuals or the state, the protests and appeals of thousands of wronged and injured ones are being made for the utter overthrow of such soul and body destroying institutions.—Era.

SIGHT WITHOUT EYES.

It is fully established that somnambulists go wherever they please, without hesitation, read and write, and give ample evidence of a power of perception independent of the usual organs of vision. Persons subject to attacks of catalepsy frequently show the same peculiarity. M Despine, late inspector of the mineral waters of Aix, in Savoy, mentions the following among many other cases: "Not only could our patient hear by means of the palm of her hand, but we have seen her read without the assistance of her eyes, merely with the tips of her fingers, which she passed rapidly over the page that she wished to read. At other times, we have seen her select from a parcel of more than thirty letters the one which she was required to pick out; also, write several letters and correct, pen reading them over again, always with her finger ends, the mistakes she had made; copy one letter word for word, reading it with her left elbow, while she wrote with her right hand. During these proceedings, a thick pasteboard completely intercepted any visual ray that might have reached her eyes. The same phenomenon was manifested on the soles of her feet, on the epigastrium and other parts of her body, 'where a sensation of pain was produced by the mere touch.'" Persons who have become blind have also been known to acquire the same power, and Harriet Martineau tells of an old lady who had been blind from her birth, and yet saw in her sleep, and in her waking state described the color of the clothing of individuals correctly. In these cases, no doubt, perception is, as usual, in the brain; but either all the nerves of the surface have the power of conveying the impressions of light to that organ, or some special part of the body, as the ends of the fingers, the occiput, or the epigastrium, assume the office of the eyes.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS.

Mrs. Livermore was 'interviewed' at a railroad station in a town in Maine, where she had been speaking the night before, by a tall, angular, spectacled woman. Mrs. Livermore was asked:

"Are you a married woman?'

'Yes.'

'Husband living?'

'Yes.'

'What does he do?'

'Whatever he chooses.'

'I mean what does he do for a living?'

'Whatever he chooses.'

'Rich?'

'He wouldn't say no.'

'H'm! Any children?'

'Yes, two.'

'How old?'

Mrs. Livermore gave her the desired information, and she exclaimed:

'Oh, I thought they was a family of little ones, and I thought you'd better be home tending to 'em. You're mighty smart, but I wanted to ask you some questions.'

'Now,' said Mrs. Livermore, 'who are you?'

The woman told her.

'Are you married?'

'Yes,' faintly.

'Is your husband dead?'

'No, I suppose he is in California; we're divorced.'

'Oh, and you thought to teach me my domestic duties.'

There was a titter ran around the room, for the woman had not been at all private in her conversation, and people hearing seemed delighted to see her so completely squelched. She probably will not attack a suffragist again in so public a manner.

There is scarcely a law on our statute book that is not coercive. Honest, law abiding citizens see no hardship in this—they are not restrained from burglary, forgery, arson, homicide and kindred offences, by fear of penalties. In all of these matters, they are a law unto themselves. But the covetous, the malignant, the revengeful, are restrained, and for these especially the penalties of the law are designed. If the man who pursues an unlawful traffic, whose legitimate tendency is corrupt the public morals and so fill the land with crime, may not be coerced from his dreadful business, then civil government is a failure—the right of the subject to protection is a delusion—and all the present inmates of our state prisons are entitled to exemplary damages for loss of time, defamation of character, and restraint of liberty.—Era.

In Russia the newly discovered coal fields attract a large share of public attention. Since the commencement, about four years ago, of the present unprecedented railway movement in that country, the destruction of the woods in that have been so wide spread and continuous as to excite general alarm. It is only natural that the Russians, with one of their most valuable articles of export thus perishing before their eyes by millions of cords, should look around for some new supplies of fuel. The coal fields are consequently regarded as a god send, and they are so abundant that the people look forward to the time when Russia, not England, will supply Constantinople, and the coal trade of Taganrog rival the grain trade of Odessa.

Look here, reader, we do not wish to inform you that consumption can be cured when the lungs are half consumed, nor that Dr. Wonderful or any other man, has discovered a remedy that will make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work. No you have heard enough of that, and we do not wonder that you have by this time become disgusted with it. But when we tell you that Dr. Sage's catarrh remedy will positively cure the worst cases of catarrh, we only assert that which thousands can testify to. Try it and you will be convinced. Sent by mail for sixty cents. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca st. Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by druggists.

In Turkey, native doctors who allow their patients to die are tried by court martial. Foreign disciples of Esculapius do not think it a pleasant country to practice medicine in.

The Shelby county (Iowa) Record says that 50 Chinamen are soon to be settled in that county, for the purpose of improving and opening up farms. This is simply an experiment; but, if it proves successful, a large number are to be brought in.

Emigrants are rapidly pouring into northern Kansas, and the prospects are that the time is not far distant when that section of the country will be thickly populated.

The Independent.

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, Dec. 7.

Congress convened on the 5th at Washington, both houses being full of business was transacted, but the President's message was read, and seemed to meet with general approval. He discusses the ordinary questions in a document of five or six columns.

In consequence of the failure of two of the Atlantic cables to work for the last few days, telegraph news from the seat of war is comparatively meager. But one line—the French one—is in working order. Vessels have gone out to repair those that are defective. Some fighting has taken place recently, at first appearing to favor the French, but the latest advices indicate that the Prussians are victorious, and perhaps ere this have began to bombard Paris, unless it surrenders, of which there seems little hope. The besieged have taken to eating their horses—nothing strange for French people—dogs and rats, which indicates that they are on short rations.—Russian matters are more pacific.

The railroad meeting on Tuesday evening of last week was a success, as we briefly intimated on the 30th ult. Papers have been circulated and liberal subscriptions put down by many of our substantial citizens. $100,000 is asked of Massillon, and already some $75,000, and perhaps more by this time, have been subscribed. A little continued effort on the part of the active and energetic committee, in whose hands the papers are placed, will fill the bill. There is enough wealth here to raise the required sum for so great an object as the Baltimore & Ohio road, and not be a detriment to the prosperity of the place, but on the contrary a most profitable investment. Wooster has secured $175,000 for this road, Canton about twice that amount, and other towns and cities have been equally liberal. The capitalists of Massillon, we are sure, will not be behind any of them.

The storm that visited this place on Monday, in its course scattered death and destruction at Cincinnati. Much property was destroyed and four lives lost at that place in consequence of falling ruins.

For many years our Salem neighbors have been laboring under the disadvantage of having to procure their coal from a distance. Recently efforts have been making to find it in that vicinity, and a few days ago it has been developed at some distance below the surface. A vein of 30 inches has been penetrated, and the design is to go deeper, as a thicker vein will be discovered. This is a fitting reward of the energy and enterprise that have characterized the people of that place.

The grogsellers of Columbiana county had hard times in pursuing their trade At every court a large number have to bleed in the pocket. At the last term two of that spiritual profession, who belong at Bayard, were badly persecuted by Judge Conant, one of the unmerciful on that sort of sinners.—One of the offenders was fined $90 and costs, and the other $400 and extras. The last named has departed the place, and his dog story is dried up.

Bro. McGregor of the Canton Democrat, and Bro Watson of the Minerva Commercial have been talking hog to each other for three or four weeks, each trying to make the other the largest specimen of the sus species. Gentlemen, we suggest that it is quite time to quit that sort of grunts.

Wm. Bingham, Jr., recently of Pittsburgh among the lost on the Cambria, was for years a very efficient and successful advertising agent all over this part of the country. The press in this region is unanimous in expressing satisfaction that this agency will be continued by Wm. Bingham, Sr.

Holiday goods have already began to come to town, and we expect that our merchants who deal in such articles will have an ample supply of albums, diaries, almanacs, and a great variety of lighter, fancy, and useful articles with which to supply the wants of the public.

A house was burned on Saturday night belonging to a man named Snyder in Greensburgh. Total loss.

MARRIED—Nov. 23, by Rev. H. Kortheuer, JOHN SCHLICKER and EMMA YOST.

Drs. L. & T. L. Oldshue, 132 Grant street Pittsburg, Pa., can cure the most complicated diseases by ocular, chemical, and microscopic examination of the urine. They cure the worst maladies known. Several persons from this county have obtained relief at their hands One says:

Nov. 3, 1870.

Drs. L. & T. L. Oldshue:

I am much better. I can walk five or six miles with ease. Before taking your medicine I could not walk half a mile. Send me more medicine. Yours, —— ——

Another says:

Nov. 3, 1870.

Drs. L. & T. L. Oldshue:

Send me another supply of medicine. The last you gave done me more good than all the medicine I have yet taken. It stirred me up pretty lively sometimes, and for the pills, they are doing their work. —— ——

And another writes:

Nov. 10, 1870.

Drs. L. & T. L. Oldshue:

I am well satisfied with the medicine you sent me. I am much better and desire to continue under your treatment.

Yours truly, —— ——

The American, of this place is reported to have again changed hands, having been sold to some Pennsylvania party by the name of Hoover.

Some two weeks ago Messrs. Beatty & Atwater commenced purchasing swine and changing them into pork by slaughter. They have bought some very large specimens, which have been salted up preparatory for sale.

Mr. Diehlenn is having a new floor put in what has been known as the Oppenheimer building, next to C. N. Oberlin's, and is making other improvements about the room. It is said one of his sons will occupy the place with a grocery.

The following contribution is from a distant part of the country, and is the production of a very intelligent gentleman, well advanced in years. He hits off some of the peculiarities of small towns in a pleasant vein of sarcastic humor, which the observant reader will not fail to appreciate. Whether any of his points will apply to larger places or not we leave others to judge.

When Columbus discovered America in 1492, he could not have had any just conception of the future grandeur of the new world thus brought to view. He could have scarcely imagined that a nation, like the United States, would be ushered into existence, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Rio Grande to the great lakes, and including a population of nearly 40,000,000 inhabitants—all white, and the rest black. Above all, he could not have forseen that a city would have sprung up like magic in this western hemisphere of such formidable dimensions and magnificent proportions as East Smithfield, of which the world may well be proud. We know that it extends in length from east to west four miles and three furlongs, and in width from north to south three miles and four furlongs. It is true that, as in all large cities, there will be found in this some vacant building lots, but we have reason to suppose they will all be filled or occupied when the proper time shall come, which perhaps can be ascertained by spirit rapping.

It may be truly said that we have sidewalks, such as probably were never seen in either of the ancient cities of Nineveh, Babylon, or Palmyra; and it is doubtful if even in these modern times, Paris, London, New York, or Philadelphia, can boast of such; and the beautiful shade trees which adorn the streets and commons are as pleasant to the eye as is silent thunder to the ear. Here the majestic Tom Jack rolls its mighty volume of waters to Sugar Creek, furnishing an ample supply for the boiler at Seaward's steam mill. The four merchant princes become corpulent by means of their profits in buying eggs and rags, for which they exchange tea, sugar, snuff, and tobacco, to the great joy and comfort of the inhabitants, and especially to the ladies; and our taverns are well patronized by peddlers, loafers, drunkards, politicians, and other idlers. If, as we have reason to suppose, the inhabitants of the other planets belonging to this solar system have the use and aid of telescopes, we can imagine the surprise and admiration of their star-gazers when looking at this earth to see so bright a spot looming up amidst the surrounding darkness The future prospects of the city are also highly encouraging, as it is believed the railroad leading from the Ridgebury silver mines to the Burlington oil well will pass through it, and it is also thought the branch railroad from the Alba and Sylvania oil well will intersect the foregoing in about the center of the city, which cannot fail to cause a perfect wilderness of buildings—with the exception of the buildings.

From time immemorial it has been necessary in all thriving and well regulated cities to have two and some times three parties to make verbal or actual war upon each other. We know that in Constantinople, in the reign of Justinian, and for a long time thereafter, they had their green and blue rival factions, which kept the city and surrounding country in a very pleasant state of excitement. Also, that they were perfectly harmless with the exception that at times they would have a combat in the streets in which a few thousand on each side would be killed, but as they were sure to die at some time if they lived long enough it was no cause for complaint. We also read that at the seige of Jerusalem by Titus they had three parties or factions in the city under their respective leaders, who, thinking the Romans did not kill them off quite fast enough, employed all leisure hours in killing each other, which served to pass away time and afforded very pretty amusement. Our city has not yet reached that transcendent state of civilization to which Constantinople and Jerusalem attained as before stated, yet we can boast of parties such as "Water street" and "up town," and the dissensions and divisions therefrom arising are often conducted with a happy degree of zeal and acrimony, which is highly interesting to the whole world and 'all the rest of mankind,' and is extremely gratifying to the parties. I might occupy the whole evening in setting forth the various workshops, factories, flouring mills, foundries, furnaces, tanneries and other productive works that are and are not in operation in this city but time is important and is required for other purposes, and will close by stating a well known fact, that the world is divided into two parts—the first being contained in a circle of five miles in diameter, of which East Smithfield is the center, and the other part consisting of all that is outside of that circle, and which is of no consequence and not worthy of notice here.

Sept. 20, 1867.

The foregoing was read at a "teacher's institute" at Smithville at the above date. At that time the sidewalks were badly out of repair and impassable. In 1867 there was a large expenditure of money in boring for oil in Burlington, Alba and Sylvania, and in digging for silver in Ridgebury.

An Indianian, anxious to save a valuable dog from a fire, threw him out of the window. The dog was saved, but in a damaged condition, his neck being broken.

LIFE IN UTAH; or the Mysteries and Crimes of Mormonism; being an expose of their secret rites and ceremonies, with a full and authentic history of Polygamy and the Mormon sect, from its origin to the present time; by J. H. Beadle, editor of the Salt Lake Reporter. Issued by the National Publishing Co., Cincinnati, O.

The attention which Mr. Beadle's letters on Mormonism, written from Utah to the Cincinnati Commercial, attracted throughout the country, justifies us in predicting that this new work from his pen will command a large and rapid sale. Of all the writers who have yet touched upon this theme, Mr. Beadle is, perhaps, the best prepared for the task. His long residence among the Mormons, and his position as editor of the Salt Lake Reporter, have given him a familiarity with the subject, which it is impossible for any mere transient visitor to acquire. We are, therefore, justified in placing more than usual confidence in his statements, which he supports by an overwhelming array of testimony from both Mormon and Gentile sources.

It may be said with truth, that the curiosity of the public with regard to the state of affairs in Utah, was never so great as at present. Mr. Beadle's book will amply satisfy the most curious. He traces the history of Mormonism from the birth of its prophet and founder, down to the present day, and shows how completely the Mormon leaders have duped their followers; how they are kept in a state of treasonable hostility to the union; and how the territory has been a scene of constant strife and bloodshed The work goes deep into the mysteries of this strange religion, and lays bare its horrible licentiousness. It abounds in records of the vilest and most terrible occurrences, which make it read more like a romance than veritable history.

Coming before us as it does at a time when the general government is making a determined effort to restore order and morality in Utah, we find it a most welcome and useful work. It is far more thrilling than the majority of sensational books with which the country is flooded, and is calculated to do much good by giving to the public a candid and impartial statement of a question which bids fair to cause no little trouble The book is sold by subscription only, and Mrs. Donaldson, who is the authorized agent for this section, is now canvassing for it. 388 2t

MISSOURI LANDS

FOR SALE.

BY THE

Hannibal and St. Joseph

R. R. Company.

About 135,000 acres of the finest farming and grazing land in the United States for sale at low prices and on very easy terms, thus enabling an industrious man with small capital to pay for his land with money earned from it.

Missouri is not too far west to be at a great distance from markets; its railroad facilities are great and constantly increasing; the climate is splendid, and good crops are almost certain; while the numerous thriving towns and cities springing up on every hand attest beyond doubt that the blight of slavery has been effectually dissipated, and that eastern men and eastern capital are doing their perfect work.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, in no case does it injure any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either visiting, or travelling through malarious districts, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

The show windows of some of the stores and groceries are already brilliant with exhibition of the many nice articles for the coming holidays.

Considerable excitement has been occasioned in the vicinity of Hammondsville, Jefferson county, on account of the discovery of a lead mine. The ore from which the lead is extracted is said to be rich, and a certain per cent of silver has been found with it. On this account property has gone up in that neighborhood.

A rain storm accompanied with lightning and thunder, and wind which almost reached the violence of a tornado, visited this place on Monday evening. Many of the houses was so shaken as to be sensibly felt by the inmates, and the roofs of others suffered more or less from being partly torn off. Mr. Falke's fine show case was blown from its place, and the contents, consisting of many valuable articles, were scattered about and lost. What has been the extent of destruction from the storm in this vicinity we have not been informed up to Tuesday morning, but there has evidently been a considerable amount of property more or less injured. The storm was an unusual one here—part of the time (a little after 3 o'clock) it was too dark to set type—and if extensive proved destructive to vessels at sea.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.—We are informed that the most persistent and unyielding of the private citizens who have claims against the British government are Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass, the manufacturers of Medicines. They will consent to nothing less than that their demand for medicines destroyed by the British pirates shall be paid in gold and in dollars to the last cent. They are embolden by the fact that the destruction of their goods by the English in China and elsewhere (for where are not that troublesome nation trampling upon some[illegible] have [illegible] been paid in full, and they now say that they shall be. They however propose this compromise:—Give us Can da and we will call it even, because we can then send our remedies there without duty.—Washington News.

One day last week Mr. Ickes was thrown from his sulkey and sustained considerable injury but not so as to disable him from being about in a short time.

On Monday last Charles Burress, who was working at Russell & Co's shop, accidentally had one of his wrists about half cut off with a saw. The injury is a severe one, and will require some time to heal. He is under the care of Dr. Reed.

The central portion of the canal bridge, on Main street, has been used so much that the floor has just been removed and new planks put down.

A musical feast is to take place at the Opera House on two evenings, Wednesday and Thursday, of next week, by that welcome choir of vocalists, the Berger family, for years very favorably known here as among the best in their profession. Mr. Wm. Lavake, a native of Massillon, and a special favorite with our music loving people, and an accomplished musician, will be along. This combined attraction will certainly fill the opera, as nothing is more enticing to our people than good music by skillful performers.

The Wellsville Local is the title of a new, lively and bright looking paper, just commenced at the place above named, by D. B. Martin. Nearly forty years ago a gentleman from Maryland published the first paper in that place. He was succeeded by Joshua Hart—some time after him came Billy Clark who printed the Patriot for a good many years. Now Wellsville boasts to weekly papers (and perhaps one or two monthlies) both of them ably conducted and we suppose thriving concerns.

One day last week the Pitt. Commercial, daily, contained a dispatch from Alliance, stating that the firm of Nixon & Co., manufacturers of agricultural implements, had made an assignement of their property—Mr. John Hunter being the assignee. It seem that the unfortunate move was unavoidable and other parties have also gone up. Teeters & Co., of that place, regarded as among the most solid bankers of Stark county suspended business. It is said they will resume in a few days. Much uneasiness at Alliance was the result of this calamity; and its effects are not limited to the locality in which it occurred, for it or similar catastrophes are visiting other places. We hope our neighbors will soon get over the shock. Is this a precursor of a revolution in business?

The storm which visited this place; alluded to elsewhere, caused in addition to the destruction of property, the loss of one life and jeopardized others. The west gable end of the depot was blown in—the second time within a few years—a portion of the roof violently torn off and thrown some distance to the south east, landing on the outer track of the railroad, southward. Three men were in the room at the time, and the portion of the roof in its descent passed one of them untouched, but Mr. Brigham, a citizen of Canton, was struck upon the head and injured severely. At this writing his case is regarded at critical, but it is hoped that he may survive. The same portion of roof fell upon Mr. Bingham, a citizen of Ravenna, and it is supposed, crushed him to death instantly, as his head and body were mangled and terribly broken up. The body was taken to the residence of Misses Binghim, Gillett & Co., milliners on the corner of Main and Mill streets, the first named being wife of deceased. Yesterday the corpse was removed to Ravenna for interment. Our community sincerely sympathize with the bereaved who were so suddenly called to weep for one so unexpectedly taken away.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868.

Allow to call attention to my Preperation of Compound Extract Buchu. The component parts are Buchu, Long Leaf, Cubebs, Juniper Berries.

Mode of Preparation.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper berries, by distillation to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries, very little sugar is used and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu as prepared by druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a tincture, as made in pharmacopœa, nor is it a syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exists. In this, you have a knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of profound confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and druggist of 19 years experience.

(From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the world.)

November 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

BUCHU.

For weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms among which will be found indisposition to exertion, loss of memory, wakefulness, horror of disease, or forebodings of evil. in fact, universal lassitude, prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyment of society.

THE CONSTITUTION

once affected with organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, consumption or insanity ensues.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

in affections peculiar to females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in chlorosis, or retention, painful, or suppression of customary evacuations, ulcerated or Schirrus state of the uterus, and all complaints incidental to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

AND

IMPROVED ROSE WASH

will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies copaiva and mercury, in all these diseases.

USE

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Those suffering from broken down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to effect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is the great Diuretic.

Sold by druggists everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications. Address,

DR. WHITTLESEY, ERQ.

Dear Sir:—Having stated it verbally to you, I have no hesitation in writing the fact, although not disposed in favor or to recommend patent medicines in general.

I do this more readily in regard to the sick headache cure prepared by Dr. Whittlesey, of Norwalk, Ohio. I have analyzed and tried it, and I recommend it as one of the best dyspepsia cures ever invented, and I feel that in recommending Whittlesey's cure I am doing at act of justice to the compounder of it, and an act of benevolence to those afflicted with dyspepsia and sick headache for which it is recommended.

Yours Respectfully,

Strong, Pure and Rich Blood—Increase of Flesh and Weight—Clear Skin and Beautiful Complexion, SECURED to ALL.

RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES. SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES THE BODY UNDERGOES UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Scrofula, Consumption, Syphilis, uncured and badly treated Venereal, in its many forms, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands, and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous discharges from the Ears, Eruptive diseases of the Eyes, Nose Mouth and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Leprosies, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, loss of sperm and all wastes of the life principle are within the curative range of Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent, and a few days use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent exceed all known remedies in the cure of the above list of diseases, but even after the most searching tests of Mercury, Minerals, Poisons, Vegetable Extracts, Sarsaparilla, Iodide of Potassium, Arsenic, Antimony, Quinine, Opium, Morphine, Strychnine, Nitrate of Silver, Iodine, Bromine, Lead, Copper, Corrosive Sublimate, which is the Curse of Mankind, Allopathy, or other boasted remedies given in medicine, and which, after much study, we have arrived at the conclusion are real Scientific, NOT ABSORBED OR CHANGED FROM THEIR NATURAL CONDITION.

It is the only remedy that can be swallowed or any the most delicate system to purify the blood, and the only medicine through which the vital forces are preserved, and on which the growth of the body depends.

4. That Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent supplies a want never before possessed or known to exist in medicine, the first new found principle in Chemical science, which has been brought to such a perfect system of cure in each disease as follows:

1. Its great power in assimilating the food in its first stage of distillation in the process of digestion, as chyme and chyle with the nourishing elements of blood, separating from these liquids refined and most qualities before they are taken up by the lacteals and are formed into blood. Here we see that by its wonderful power it charges the eye with the very essence or principal that forms the vital powers of the body, and its chemical action on the blood in its primitive and complete condition, separates every atom of diseased material or element, out of which the germs of disease is formed.

2. That the blood thus prepared, and supplied with these nourishing properties becomes strong, rich and healthy, and holds in solution its proper constituents, through the Sarsaparillian Resolvent, and repairs the wastes of the body with sound and healthy structures. Such is the wonderful power the Sarsaparillian Resolvent exerts on the blood and juices of the system, that no virulent humors or poisons will exist by which deposits are made.

3. The rapidity with the Sarsaparillian enters the circulations, and commences its curative powers through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids, secures the confidence secretions of each respective organ, establishing functional harmony throughout the system; through its action and power over the Secretions, the Liver secretes its natural or proper allotment of bile; the Skin sweat; the Kidneys urine; and the Lungs carbon; so that this wonderful medicine not only establishes health in the sick body, but preserves the system in health.

THE WASTES OF THE BODY

are supplied with new, healthy, and vigorous blood, that furnishes sound structure. Hence all sanguineous Waste and Discharges, other MATS or PARTS of the Womb, Uterus, or other organs, whether Leucorrhœa, Sperm, or Leptine mucus, or of every kind, or from the cause of Self-abuse, from the mental diseases of Vice and dissipation, or excess, or secret, through the reparative process of RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN, are arrested, and the ruptured organs healed

THE TRUE THEORY OF CURE.

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT enters the system, through the blood, urine, sweat, and structure-making constituents with a searching, healing, and making Heat or Chyle and Life giving elements. All of its constituents are nourishing, purifying, and searching. It Repairs Decays, Restores, and Gives out of the Body the Principles of Decay and Corruption. CONSUMPTION, WHITE SWELLING, DROPSY, SYPHILIS, CANCERS, TUMORS, &c., are all of a scrofulous feathers, and as such, are within the curative range of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT.

1 That Scrofula, by whatever name designated, is the result of deposits from the blood, in the form caused by Chronic Inflammation. That those deposits take place when the blood is poor, weak and impure, and incapable of holding in solution its proper constituents, or from the presence of some virus or poison in the blood as Mercury, Colomel, Corrosive Sublimate, which is the Curse of Mankind, of Medicines or other boasted given in medicine and which, after much study, we have arrived at the conclusion are Scientific, NOT ABSORBED OR CHANGED FROM THEIR NATURAL CONDITION.

2 That unless the repairs of nutriments are greater than the waste, that decomposition and death supervene, and the powers of life become exhausted.

3 That nothing can be assimilated or any the most delicate system to purify the blood, and the only medicine through which the vital forces are preserved, and on which the growth of the body depends.

in this Medicine consists in the solution of ingredients containing curative and nourishing properties that supply the blood and general system with such elements which, in a condition of disease and depravity, it is deficient of, together with the combination of the several ingredients that form the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT.

If the constituent of Oxygen was exhausted from the atmospheric air, life would become extinct. So, when the blood becomes exhausted of its vital constituents, it deposits its tubercles and diseased humors in the body, and the elements of decay and decomposition supervene. Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent is to the blood and general system what OXYGEN is to the atmospheric air; it supplies the life principle, and enables the blood to hold in solution all its natural constituents.

DAILY CHANGES

take place, for as the Sarsaparillian increases the strength and purity of the blood, all deposits are diminished, and where there are tubercles formed in the lungs, the further deposits are arrested, and those that are established or forming dislodged, expelled, exhausted, or the portion of the diseased lung cicatrized, and the consumptive, scrofulous subject receives good, if not sound, health.

BLIND LADY CURED.

Gravel, Dyspepsia, Sore Legs, Bleeding from the Lungs, Cured.

Mr. GEORGE MORTIMER, a commercial traveller, in Canada West, writes us, under date of April 17, 1867, from Woodstock:

"The SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is in great demand, and working wonders. Mr. HOAG, of Strafordville, merchant, told me of a case where a woman WAS BLIND, but, by the use of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT, can now see to read. She would give a certificate, but does not wish to be bothered with people writing. Hundreds call to see her. The cure is regarded as wonderful.

"Messrs. WHITE & SCOTT, principal druggists here, inform me of a person of note—high social standing—who for years was afflicted with DYSPEPSIA and GRAVEL, who has been entirely cured by RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT."

Mr. HOAG reports another case of Chronic Sore Leg, that resisted all other advertised medicines, cured by a few bottles of SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT.

"Mr. JONATHAN FREELAND, of Widder Station, cured, by one bottle, of Bleeding from the Lungs, Night Sweats, Threatened Consumption.

"In every town I visit I hear of wonderful cures by the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT. For every kind of Humor, Sore, Skin Eruption, and all weakening discharges, the people use it, and become cured; so with Pits, Scrofula, White Swelling, Sore Heads and Eyes, Nose and Mouth, all kinds of Sores, this wonderful remedy acts so powerfully on the blood that all who take it become strong, sound, and healthy.

"GEO. G. MORTIMER,
"Commercial Traveller."

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is sold at $1 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $5, by all Druggists and Medicine Dealers, and at DR. RADWAY'S Medicine Warehouse, 87 Maiden Lane, New York City.

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1871 for distribution, gratis, throughout the United and all civilized countries in the western hemisphere, will be published about the 1st of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embodies a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional men, and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and most extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable receipts for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the annuals to appear with the opening year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

The Brevity of Life.

"'Tis not for man to trifle, life is brief
Our age is but the falling of a leaf.
We have no time to sport away the hours
All must be earnest in a world like ours.
Not many lives but one have we,
How sacred should that one be."

And still how many fritter away their lives, unable to fill any useful purpose, because some lingering disease wants their attention, and they neglect or refuse to use the remedies within their reach. God in his wonderful arrangement of nature, has provided an antidote for all the ills that the human flesh is heir to, and by the aid of science the medical virtues, of certain herbs, roots and barks have been combined, and the result is now known all over the world as Mishler's Herb Bitters. It thoroughly purifies the blood, invigorates the nervous system, elevates the standard of all the vital forces, and sustains a most healthful action of the entire human organization. SALLY SALTER.

Sally Salter she was a young teacher who taught,
And her friend, Charley Church, was a preacher, who praught;
Though his enemies called him a screecher, who scraught.

His heart when he saw her, kept sinking and sunk,
And his eye meeting hers, began winking and wunk;
While she, in her turn, fell to thinking and thunk.

He hasened to woo her, and sweetly he wooed,
For his love grew until to a mountain it grewed,
And what he was longing to do then he doed.

In secret he wanted to speak, and he spoke,
To seek with his lips what his heart long had soke,
So he managed to let the truth leak, and it loke.

He asked her to ride to the church, and they rode,
They so sweetly did glide, that they both thought they glode,
And they came to the place to be tied, and were toed.

Then homeward, he said, let us drive, and they drove,
And as soon as they wished to arrive, they arrove;
For whatever he couldn't contrive, she controve.

The kiss he was dying to steal he thne stole,
At the feet where he wanted to kneel, there he knole,
And he said, "I feel better than ever I fole."

So they to each other kept clinging and clung,
While Time his swift circuit was winging, and wung;
And this was the thing he was bringing, and brung.

The man Sally wanted to catch and had caught—
That she wanted from others to snatch, and had snaught—
Was the one that she now liked to scratch and she scraught.

And Charley's warm love began freezing and froze,
While he took to teazing and cruelly toze
The girl he had wished to be squeezing and squoze.

"Wretch!" he cried, when she threatened to leave him and left,
"How could you deceive me, as you have deceft?"
And she answered, "I promised to cleave, and I've cleft!"

HOW MUCH TOBACCO IS USED.

The present annual production of tobacco is estimated to be 4,000,000,000 pounds! This is all smoked, chewed or snuffed. Suppose it all made into cigars one hundred to the pound. It would produce 400,000,000,000. Four hundred billions of cigars!

Allowing this tobacco unmanufactured, to cost on the average ten cents a pound, and we have $400,000,000 expended in producing a noxious deleterious weed. At least one and a half times as much more is required to manufacture it into marketable form, and dispose of it to the consumer. At the very lowest estimate, then, the human family expend, every year, one thousand millions of dollars in the gratification of an acquired habit, or one dollar for every man, woman and child upon the earth!

This sum would build two railroads around the earth, at a cost of twenty thousand dollars per mile, or sixteen railroads from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It would build one hundred thousand churches, costing $10,000 each; or half a million of school houses, costing $2,000 each; or one million of dwellings costing $1,000 each. It would employ one million preachers, and one million of teachers, giving each a salary of $500. It would support three and one-third millions of young men at college, giving each $300 per annum for expenses. We leave others to fill out the picture. Is this annual outlay to increase or decrease in future? Reader how much do you contribute to this fund?

Street cars moved by compressd air are running in Chicago. At the trial trip on Saturday, one of them went the three miles and a quarter in thirty minutes, with an initial pressure of one hundred and twenty-five pounds to the square inch.

Devotion to Science.—Mamma—'Ah! you cruel, cruel boy, how could you frighten your dear little sister so?' The incorrigible—'I—I only wanted to see if her hair would turn white.'

An Ohio man who passed around a plate at a religious meeting for contribution for the heathen, and then pocketed the money, has been acquitted by a jury of the vicinage on the ground that he was the greatest heathen they knew, and was therefore justly entitled to the money.

There are three things in the world that know no kind of restraint, and are governed by no laws, but merely by passions and brutality—civil wars, family quarrels, and religious disputes.

The triumph of great souls is to be placed in difficult situations: it is there that all their genius is displayed; but it is the greatest of all misfortunes to ordinary minds.

Look on slanderers as direct enemies to civil society; as persons without honor, honesty, or humanity. Whoever entertains you with the faults of others design to serve you in a similar manner.

Is now Seven Years Old, and

"Still Lives."

Without boasting of being an organ of immense influence, we may with diffidence claim that the paper is not without usefulness in the right direction, ever contending for justice in all the living issues of the day. But its principal business has ever been to subserve the local interests of the community with which it is identified, and so it proposes to continue. Its home record of the ever varying phases of business, of the prosperity of the city, and of the social and moral state of society here, with other matters too numerous to specify, will give those who come after us, and have occasion to examine the files of this paper, a faithful history of the years of its existence.

We solicit the continued patronage of our people in the confidence that we shall render satisfaction—at least as near as as we can come at it—and for such as are removing elsewhere we hope to make the INDEPENDENT a very welcome visitor.

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency, mental and physical incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc.; also, consumption, epilepsy, and fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

MRS. J. A. ALLEN

MRS. ALLEN'S
Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. Agreeable with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

Sold by all Druggists. Wholesale Depot, S. R. VAN DUZER & CO., 36 Barclay St. and 40 Park Place, New-York.

Continues to treat all private diseases, syphilis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at, office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

JOS. COLEMAN.

I do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures consumption, when the lungs are half consumed, in short—in fact all cases whether of the mind, body, or estate, make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which heaven itself would be but a side show. You have heard enough of that kind of humbuggery. But when I tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure the worst cases of catarrh in the head, I only assert that which thousands can testify to. I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. A pamphlet giving symptoms and other information sent free to any address. This remedy is Sold by Most Druggists in all parts of the World.

Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of sixty cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private stamp issued by the U S government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait name and address and the words U S Certificate of Genuineness engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others representing themselves as Dr. Sage, I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine.
